POLITICAL POINTERS.

Opening of the Campaign at Pontiac. Poseriac, Sept. 24.-Last night Hon. Byron M. Cutcheon spoke to a large gathering at the Young Men's Republi-can club. He addressed himself especially to young men, the new voters who will control by their votes the election in November. The character and constituency of the two denominating parties received his special attention. He held up the republican party of progress and advancement, a party in accord with the patriotic emotions of young men. He said the democrat party was a party of opposition and for the past thirty years its mission had been to oppose the pro-gressive principles of the republican party. He compared and closely analysed the pistforms of the democrat party in 1884 and 1892, showing radical changes from the platform upon which Cleveland stood then and the platform of 1892 upon which he does not like to stand. He also said the democrat party always has been and is today dominated by the south. There was a large attendance of young men and the speech will have a conserving influence upon the young voters who heard it.
